SeaDental®
Your smile is supported

Aoralscan Lync

SHINING 3D
DENTAL

90008787 seadental.ir info@sea-dental.com sea_dental

Aoralscan Lync

Aoralscan Lync is the latest intraoral scanner from SHINING 3D. Built on the proven Aoralscan series technology platform, it inherits trusted software and hardware while beingre-engineered to focus on what truly matters -efficiency and reliability in digital impressions.It is designed to support a wide range of clinical applications, including implantology,orthodontics, and prosthodontics.

Excellent Ergonomics

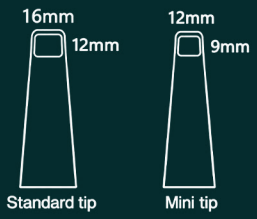

Designed for comfortable handling with a pen-like grip, allowing for intuitive and relaxed scanning.

Simplified Connection

Weighing just 116g, its lightweight and compact design ensures fatigue-free operation, even during extended procedures.

Featherlight Form

Weighing just 116g, its lightweight and compact design ensures fatigue-free operation, even during extended procedures.

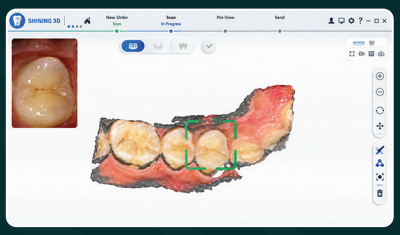

Smart Software for Superior Experience

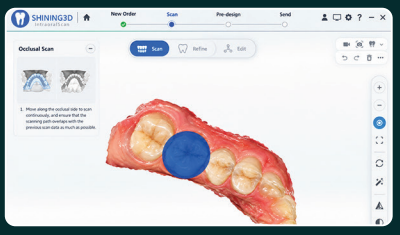

Intelligent Scan

AI-driven software automatically removes soft tissue interference for dean, accurate data OFF capture.

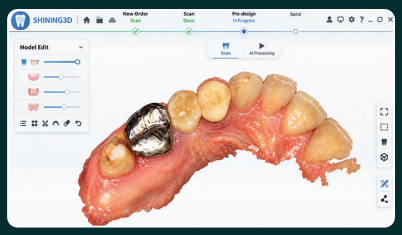

Scan Quality Indicator

Highlights areas lacking data in gray, helping you identify where to rescan for optimal quality.

Refined Scan

Captures fine morphdogy & preparation details with exceptional fidelity.

Reliable With Metal Su rfaces

Scans effectively on metal restorations and darker shades.

Technical Specifications Aoralscan Lync

Scan Field	Standard tip: 16 12 22 mm Small tip: 12 x 9 22 mm
Scan Principle	Non-contact scanner with structured light
Dimension(L×W×H)	24Smm 38mm x 33 mm
Weight	116 g (without cables)
Output	STL, OBJ, PLY
Connection Port	Type-C
Power Input	12V DC/ 3A